

Infax SmartScreen makes courthouse information available with the touch of a finger. Displayed on interactive flat panels or floor-standing kiosks, patrons have instant access to court directories, interactive maps with step-by-step directions, and frequently asked questions (FAQs).

By using SmartScreen's check-in feature, patrons are able to notify court staff of their arrival for a calendar appearance or jury service electronically. When using the 'Search' feature, patrons can query their names, and upon finding their information, check-in via display.

The applications can integrate with any case management or jury management system to provide real-time information and is an ideal way to provide visitors with a simple method that quickly maps the way to their destination allowing for a more independent experience.
